Welcome to FuMPFest 2016!

Man, we do two little comedy-music conventions and the entire world falls apart! We've got celebrities dying left and right this year, Olympic athletes risking their health and safety just to compete, and don't even get me started on the Presidential election. And yet, here we are, pushing our luck to try this again for the funny music we all love. FuMPFest is a celebration of the music that dares to be funny. And really, that's appropriate as several of the songs you will hear this weekend were probably written on a dare. So sit back, relax, and hope that the world can handle a third FuMPFest.

Guests

Guest of Honor: Paul and Storm

paul

Paul and Storm (Paul Sabourin and Greg “Storm” DiCostanzo) have been writing and performing funny songs together for a long, long time, starting with their stint together in a cappella band Da Vinci’s Notebook. They are co-founders and producers of the storied nerd variety show w00tstock, and they have had their guitar smashed by George R. R. Martin followed by a Neil Gaiman scolding.

Their music was featured in Despicable Me 2, alongside other properties such as the cartoon website Homestar Runner, web series The Guild and The Legend of Neil, “The Drew Carey Show”, Comedy Central, NPR’s Ask Me Another, the “Bob and Tom” syndicated morning radio show, and The Doctor Demento Show. Their fifth full-length CD, Ball Pit, was released in June 2014, and was the central item of the duo’s wildly successful Kickstarter campaign.

You can find them online at www.paulandstorm.com.

Performing Artists

2D6 - In the year 20XX, two tiny animals found a pair of magical dice and transformed into gross humans who rap. These two, Cliff B and DJ Stuck Down A Mineshaft, rock the nerdcore hip-hop subgenre with their rhymes about video games, tabletop roleplaying, Avogadro's number, conventioneering, Boba Fett, the future, the past, bleeps, bloops, etc.

Tim Cavanagh - Tim Cavanagh has brought his comedic songs and inventive stand-up to concert halls, corporations, college campuses and nightclubs across America. He is a regular on the Bob and Tom show, has been heard on the Dr. Demento Show, and has had appearances on Showtime, WGN, and Comedy Central.

Carrie Dahlby - Carrie Dahlby is a classically trained opera singer from the Chicago area who lends her talents to many of the other FuMP artists. Carrie has released three studio albums and is best known for her songs about being a parent. Court and Country will be appearing as a special guest with Carrie during her set.

Devo Spice - Devo Spice is a comedy-rapper from New Jersey who has become one of the most popular artists on the Dr. Demento Show. He was the founding member of Sudden Death, the group that had the #1, #2, and #4 most requested songs of 2007 on Dr. Demento. ("Cellular Degeneration", "Getting Old Sucks" and "Pillagers", respectively.)

Guests

Performing Artists

Dino-Mike - For over 15 years, Dino-Mike has been recording and performing his unique brand of music all over the Southern California area as well as select venues around the country. Mike currently has three full length albums under his belt plus is featured on the internationally released compilation album "Speed Racer: The SoundTRACK".

The Gothsicles - THE GOTHICLES are DANCE DESPERADOS WHAT HAIL FROM CHICAGO and are fronted by Brian Graupner. From dimensional rifts and the sea's cold abyss emanates HYPERACTIVE INDUSTRIAL THAT'S FULLY COMBUSTIBLE. It's mostly four on the floor EBM for nerds.

The Library Bards - The Library Bards are a nerd parody band consisting of Bonnie Gordon (ABC's The Quest) and Xander Jeanneret (TBS' King of the Nerds). They take popular songs and transform them into the nerdy versions they should have been in the first place!

Megathruster - After the success of Hot Waffles, and a 1000 mile move in the name of love, Chris Waffle thought he would never write songs again. Then a wise wizard cast a spell calling him back to music. The skies darkened, the clouds rumbled, there was an 80's era cartoon transformation sequence, and Megathruster was born.

Rob Paravonian - Rob Paravonian is a standup comedian known the world over for his Pachelbel Rant and viral videos which have been viewed millions of times. Using music to get the laughs, Rob has opened for George Carlin and Lily Tomlin, has appeared on Comedy Central and VH1, and has toured everywhere from Alaska to Afghanistan.

Seamonkey - The Seamonkey began ruining people's favourite songs ca. 1995 just to be a spoilsport. Now, a local legend*, the Seamonkey can be found unleashing his "musical taboo" in extremely small local venues in the Dallas/Ft. Worth area. If you like your parody music disturbing Seamonkey Music is not just a thrill, it's a necessity!

Zack Shornick and the Pathetic Men - Zack Shornick and the Pathetic Men is a music comedy act composed of Zack Shornick— and no one else. He is equal parts stand-up and balladeer, "combining the energetic pop sensibilities of Ben Folds and the honest, playful goofiness of Pete Holmes and Flight of the Conchords."

Tom Smith - Tom Smith first picked up a guitar in 1985, and since then he's been unstoppable. We know this, because a number of things have tried to stop him. No such luck -- he's written hundreds of songs and produced over twenty albums, with no end in sight, and garnered a base of fans around the world.

Guests

Performing Artists

Worm Quartet - Worm Quartet is a one-man-synth-punk-comedy-group from Rochester, New York whose sole member is a 6' 4" maniac who goes by the name "Shoebox." Their music is fast, furious, and funny, and they were the number 1 artist on Dr. Demento in 2004 with the ex-girlfriend ode "Great Idea for a Song."

Movie Screenings

The FuMPet Show - The great Luke Ski produced this parody of The Muppet Show for MarsCon 2013's opening ceremonies. Featuring all your favorite FuMP artists as puppets, special cameos, and musical clips, this video is an amazing piece of work, filled with humor, music, and lots of inside jokes.

UHF - "Weird Al" Yankovic is George Newman, a man with an over-active imagination, and seemingly no luck in life. Until, that is, he inherits a struggling UHF station and turns the channel into the talk of the town with shows like Wheel of Fish, Raul's Wild Kingdom, and his big breakout hit, Stanley Spadowski's Clubhouse.

Co-starring Michael Richards ("Seinfeld"), Fran Drescher ("The Nanny"), and Victoria Jackson ("Saturday Night Live"), this hilarious movie has become a cult classic and a favorite among fans.

This year UHF celebrates its 27th anniversary. Come watch and find out for yourself what's in the box.
